Fellow Flourishing Fanatics-

The April Showers were abundant and there were many downpours along with some rumbling thunder and lightning shows. I relished all the rain as it has given the jumpstart to all that grows and blooms. Although each heavy downpour decimated the iris's blooming my yard; they drank up the water and continued to put on show throughout April. I'm in awe every year watching them bloom along with the Nigella (love in the mist), pin cushion, clematis and roses.

Pin Cushion

So much to learn, appreciate, and aspire to when it comes to nature.

Clematis

It's May and that means our year is coming to an end and Summer is right around the corner. I sincerely hope each and every one of you had a great time this past year and maybe even learned a thing or two. I know I have seen many folks "flourish" and grow this year and stretch themselves and I commend all of you for the efforts you put forth in sharing, nurturing, instructing, and entertaining which makes Kaligrafos what it is and something we all want to come back to and are proud of.

There are some critical Chair positions that need to be filled this coming year; Programs and Fundraising need immediate filling.

Blue-eyed Grass

Although the chair positions are part of the board it's not a single person who is responsible for everything, but the committee or team that the chairman has with them. Don't limit yourself to only one committee but rather "cross pollinate" with other committees. Even if you want to be a chairman you can lend a hand and be on the committee of another group.

The mailman has but only one more month to deliver decorated envelopes from you. Make May the most over the top embellished, decorated, stamped, flourished envelope you've done!

Nigella

Don't forget to bring you April envelopes for show and share.

July First That is the deadline to have your info to Betty for the our September Exhibit - Inspiration! I'm throwing a Challenge out. If we have 30 members enter pieces for the exhibit I will bring smoked brisket or pork and home made bread and baked beans for a meeting next Fall. What do you say? You up for the challenge? Come on, I know you can do it! I will even count my submission so that means only 29 left.

It's been a Fabulous first year being your President and I hope I have lived up to your expectations. Any comments, critiques, or suggestions just let me know. My door is always open!

May you have a Wonderful Summer with family and friends as well as fun with paper, pen, paint, ink, and brush!

Cheers!

April Meeting Highlights

By Trish Manche

- Tom Burns made a call for volunteers. You don't have to lead a committee but please support one or more.
- Rick Garlington has been nominated to serve as treasurer and Margaret Mall will be taking on Exhibits.
- Remember items for the September Goodrich Gallery Exhibit are due to Betty Barna by 7-1-15.
- Brenda Burns reminded members that books are due in May and book reviews are needed.
- Anita Hofmeister reminded members we need volunteers willing to do a program review each month as well as take care of coffee and snacks. Margaret Mall and Lucy Hight volunteered to handle coffee at the May meeting. Rita Price volunteered for April meeting review and Cristie Campo volunteered for May meeting review.
- Wendy Carnegie reminded all that it's time for renewals and birthday card donations for membership are needed.
- Sherry Barber announced the Round Robin workshop for Fall 2015, come learn from some of our talented members.

Announcements

Let's Make Some Cards!

Saturday, July 18th, 9am – 12pm

Beverly Stewart has generously offered her place* for us to spend the day making cards. Kaligrafos sends out a lot of birthday cards each year to every member, and they are usually handmade by only a few people. To help out with this task and get together to have a fun day, we decided to offer this card-making event.

You will learn some new techniques and just have a fun day creating! The card stock, envelopes, and adhesives will be available for a small fee ($3) as well as some tools to make embellishments, but you are welcome to bring your own decorative paper or any other doo-dads that you might have around to decorate a card.

Beverly has duplicable ways of making scrap beautiful! You can take home 1 for every 4 that you make for the guild. If we have enough attendance then we might be able to increase the take home rate! Space is somewhat limited, so sign up early to get a place!

If you want to participate, please email Wendy Carnegie at wcarnegie@gmail.com

April Program Review
FRAMING YOUR ARTWORK
with Sherry Barber
By Rita Price

This April program was masterfully presented by Sherry Barber. Sherry confidently created a most useful instructional module. A comprehensive handout was compiled for her audience and available to print out ahead of time for pre-study and most probably saved by the attendees for post application. In both the handout and verbally during her presentation, she stressed the importance of archival supplies and methods. She stated, "Archival is not any more expensive. Do it right the first time!"

She began by suggesting sources for buying supplies. She then proceeded to assemble various mat and frame projects. Step by step instructions included framing with a mat starting with the artwork itself. She made an "artwork sandwich" with the artwork, backboard, mat, and hinges of paper or linen. She then assembled the frame onto the artwork sandwich right down to the D-rings, picture wire and dust cover on the back. A helpful suggestion was to just throw away the saw tooth type hangers and always use D-rings. We learned about using framing points to fix the artwork into the frame. We learned about rabbets (not to be confused with bunny rabbits). Rabbets are actually the grooves in frames that determine the size and thickness of the mat and backing board.

Next Sherry demonstrated the steps when you already have a frame that you want to reuse. She reversed the math for this process. She included a helpful example of her measurements and mental process. She emphasized optical center since it is so important for attractive results in all framing. She followed this with a brief discussion and demo of framing art on a panel or canvas. Offset clips may be necessary to fit the rabbet depth.

Her last demonstration was framing without a mat and with a floating mat. She attached spacers to the edge of the glass.

This keeps the artwork from touching the glass.

An important tip she shared was the reminder that dry mounting is not reversible and should not be used with valuable pieces of artwork. She also reminded us that acrylic surfaces have their uses rather than glass surfaces as they are lightweight and less prone to breakage. However, acrylic should never be used in framing if pastels, charcoals or any other powdery pigments were used in the artwork. Acrylic combined with static electricity and dusty mediums makes for an unhealthy attraction, Who knew?! That may explain why this reviewer paid a lot of money to an expensive shop for framing a large piece and the acrylic has colored fuzzies collecting on the inside of the 'glass'.

How did Sherry become so knowledgeable about matting and framing? Sherry said, "I was always needing to have something framed and as you know it is quite expensive to go the professional route every time. I started with Aaron Brothers frames and did it myself. That led to google searches for better methods and reasonably priced materials. I love to read up on the subjects that capture my interest. Turns out, that it is not a difficult task and it is very rewarding to do it myself. I am a HUGE do-it-yourselfer. I even watch the plumber and electrician when they are doing repairs".

Book Reviews

If you are looking for an opportunity that will help others, fill a need and be more rewarding than you could imagine, then the Library Committee wants YOU!

We have an extensive library and it can be overwhelming (especially to those new to calligraphy) to decide what books to borrow, which is why the Library Committee is asking its members to write reviews of our books. The reviews will be published in both a future newsletter as well as posted on the Library Thing.

For more information, please contact Brenda.

Definition of a Volunteer...

A person who expresses a willingness to undertake a service and use their time and talents for charitable, educational, or other worthwhile activities, especially in one's community for the benefit of other people as a social responsibility rather than for any financial reward.

Do you meet these criteria and would you consider being a Kaligrafos Volunteer?
If you agree, then we have a place for you!!

Here are some of the ways to serve

Consider being on the ballot for Vice-president or Treasurer

-Become a Chairman:

Fund Raising

Workshop

Exhibits

Or any of the other Chair positions

-Be on a committee - All Chairmen need help

We need YOU and hopefully you need us to keep Kaligrafos the vibrant, informative, fun and exciting organization we enjoy.

Spotlight On... Harvey Anton

My other life was more interesting than my current life...

I was in the Navy from 1945-1949 for 4 1/2 years. Then for several years I was in the retail men's shoe business in Fort Worth, Texas, and opened my own store in 1970.

I joined the Fort Worth Calligraphy guild in 1980 and took lessons from the traveling world class calligraphers (whenever possible). I started to work professionally for individuals as well as companies: Radio Shack, Kimball Art Museum, The Ben Hogan Company, The Pro-Line Cap Company, The Ben E. Keith company, several art design studios, and numerous others too, and my clients kept me plenty busy. In my spare time, I started writing poems and such for practice, probably several hundreds. Also, I copied the Declaration of Independence, and the Texas Declaration of Independence, both rather lengthy pieces in Copperplate.

My favorite nibs are the Brause 66EF is, which I started learning with, Denys Tyle (sp), the Gillott #303 and the Spencerian #1. I started collecting any and all vintage nibs that I could find which brings me to my current inventory of several hundred brands and several thousand nibs. Then, I wasn't satisfied with the offset oblique pen staffs available and started making my own. I found that they suited my "hand" and style of writing a lot better. Using a smaller radius of round wooden handles allowed me to write better and longer at a sitting time. And, what is my favorite ink? It's called Kaimei. I discovered it when visiting Chinatown in San Francisco. It is carbon based, sits nicely on the paper, erases well and smells beautifully. If you can try it, I'm sure you will enjoy using as much as I did.

Then I sold the shoe store, moved to Plano in 2004, but had to give up my love of writing and playing golf because of physical problems. Today and retired, love the life I live, and sell my vintage nibs and pen staffs on Ebay, Kaligrafos meetings, email and Flourish Forum, all over the U.S. and the rest of the world, including Indonesia, Russia, Portugal, China, Australia, Japan and Latvia... just to name a few. Of course word of mouth has proved very beneficial over the years. At this point I would like to thank all the member of Kaligrafos who have purchased from me both at the meetings and during the months. Started "Harvey's Helpful Hints" about 1994, and am still at it hoping that I can help newbies and remind oldies of some of the methods I used to use during my writing days. I met Irene Calendo (of IAMETH fame), when she was in Fort Worth visiting with her daughter about 1984-5.

Spotlight Continued.....

She convinced me to join IAMPETH and put on a demonstration of Embossing, Debossing and my own invention of curlicues as used on Blackletter which I call "Thread Embossing" at their 1984 convention in Rochester, New York.

My love of letters has never diminished that's how I keep my hand in by writing the "Hints" column for both Kaligrafos and The Fort Worth Calligraphy Guild.

Harvey's Helpful Hints

by Harvey Anton

This site is new to me, but if you are looking for an oblique holder that is super beautiful in design, you need to check out Brian Smith's "Unique Oblique Penholders." He is a woodworking expert in New Orleans who turns out the most beautiful pen staffs I have ever seen-multicolor exotic woods and plain (including white). A bit on the pricey side, but worth it. Then, to get it personalized, send it to Schin Loong in Las Vegas (Henderson, NV) and have it decorated with hand-painted flowers. Oh, what a treat – it will make your letters even prettier!

Dream Nibs In my treasure of vintage nibs I have discovered 2 nibs that I have to expound on: the Perry #220EF and Perry #104EF (Bird Beak). Both of these nibs have the most flexible tines that equal the "Dream" nibs of the Zanerian Fine Writer, D.L. Musselman, Gillott Principality and others of comparable quality with minimum pressure and extra fine lines. My only regret is that I did not find them when I was writing! And, if you are not familiar with The Perry Company, they were one of the Premier nib manufacturing Companies during the "Golden Years" made in Great Britain. If you are a pointed pen enthusiast you must try them! You will not be disappointed! This is a "Hint" that's sure to please everyone.

Flourish Forum On the subject of new sites: Try the "Flourish Forum" for informative calligraphy discussion. It was initiated by Erica McPhee in 2013 and has gained in popularity with over 2000 lettering artists all around the world. Try them out for information, tutorials, supplies, etc. You can start a new "thread" or reply to ones already current.

Sharp in a Snap Get more cutting tips from your Exacto #11 blades by using a pair of pliers: simply break off the dull tip and you've created a new sharp cutting tip. Be extremely cautious as these blades are razor-sharp and can do you a lot of harm.

You are welcome to visit me and my wares at the meetings: Vintage nibs, Penstaffs, "Hints" CD's and Vintage Penmanship DVD's all at reasonable prices. If you need something special and fast let me know and I'll bring it to the meeting for you.

And till next month, for beautiful writing,
