"We Ink 'em Up!"
Presidential Seal By Janell Wimberly

President's Letter

Dear Heroines and Heralds of the Mighty Hand Written Letter -

The Ghouls, Goblins, and Walking Dead have been conquered once again. All the spider webs, aka costumes, are neatly tucked away in the back of the closet never to see light of day, until they re-emerge next Halloween under the light of the Moon!

Welcome November and all the glory that is Fall with the cooler weather and finally, the change in color of our Texas trees. Assuming that is you have something other than Live Oaks! I always welcome the change to fall but appreciate it even more since coming to Texas.

I must share this tidbit: Along with fall comes hunting season for various wildlife, along with football season, hockey season, and basketball season to name some of the big ones. Well, I was also informed that it's eating season! It's starts with Halloween and continues through Super Bowl weekend. And, it's true! The big holidays and gatherings hit all at once, so loosen up those belts "cuz" it's time to eat!

Our first workshop is in the books for the year. It was our Round Robin with Eric (Chinese lettering), Jeri (Pointed pen variation), Sherry (Greek lettering), and yours truly (Abstract flat brush). The weekend was a blur, but I think fun was had by all. Thanks to all who attended!

The next major workshop is in the Spring with Georgia Angelopoulos. Sherry just gave you a little taste and Georgia is bringing on the full 7 course fine dining experience! It's something you will not want to miss. Be watching the newsletter and announcements for more information.

Drum roll please.....

It's Bazaar Time! Not to be confused with Bizarre, but maybe the two could go together. Don't forget your check book, cash and coin, or plastic. If you don't have at least one of these with you then you might have to barter and I hear that Rick can be a tough cookie when it comes to that so it's just best you have some funds to purchase your goodies. I've heard from some folks and know there's going to be some pretty cool things there. Reminder for those bringing items to sell; you must have your items marked with your initials or some identification and the price. Bring a friend to go shopping with!

Tis' the season to be thankful. I'm thankful for many things, even though life throws us curves and hits us in the face with the unexpected. It's a journey, and one that's never taken alone. From the darkest depth can come the brightest light, and as artists, we can take that energy and emotion and turn it into the fuel for the passion to create. Although the path seems dark and bleak, the light is within us. So let the letters flow and consume the blackness, and from it will come our beautiful art.

I hope all of you can take time and can spend Thanksgiving with family and friends.

Until we meet again.....

Humbly yours,

Thomas Burns

NOVEMBER PROGRAM

ARCHITECTURE TO ART DESIGN AND COMPOSITION

with Cynthia Stiles

The theme of this presentation will be how my studies and practice as an architect influenced my approach to art and calligraphy. I will bring and show the manual architectural tools I find myself using to create my art and calligraphy. I will also share how architectural drafting and design taught me to see the importance of sketching out ideas, doing layouts to acquire a pleasing composition, doing several test pieces and planning the sequence of making it all happen to obtain the final result.

ALSO THIS MONTH, DON'T FORGET!

ANNUAL FALL BAZAAR

Please bring your wares to sell, labeled with your initials and the price,
Also, bring your check book, cash or credit cards and friends!

Book Reviews

If you are looking for an opportunity that will help others, fill a need and be more rewarding than you could imagine, then the Library Committee wants YOU!

We have an extensive library and it can be overwhelming (especially to those new to calligraphy) to decide what books to borrow, which is why the Library Committee is asking its members to write reviews of our books. The reviews will be published in both a future newsletter as well as posted on the Library Thing. For more information, please contact Brenda.

Harvey's Helpful Hints

by Harvey Anton

Light Box Ever have the desire for a light box, but didn't think you could swing the cost? Try this temporary idea; Rest a 12"x24"x1/4" or smaller piece of glass on your lap, also resting the end on a table making the glass slanting. Then on the floor between your feet, rest a florescent bulb fixture, and you have the basic idea for a light box. Or, use a glass-topped table with the florescent bulb underneath for the same effect. Then when the mood is right, ask your hubby or wife to make a light box for you. They are really quite simple to make and wonderful to use.

Check Your Nibs Keep a 10x jeweler's loupe close by to check the sharpness of your broad pen edge. It's surprising how quickly they become dull. For this reason keep your Arkansas sharpening stone handy for "tuning up" your nib edge. As a quick touch up you can use the striker strip of a book of paper matches...take the same number of strokes to each nib side keeping the edge "chisel" shaped.

White Out We pretty much quit using "white-out" when the typewriter became obsolete. But, in case you need some white-out handy, squeeze a bit of Windsor-Newton Permanent White in a dish and allow the sizing to evaporate. Then add a bit of water and use a small brush to apply the "white-out" to your text.

Vintage Articles The July 1999 edition of National Geographic has a 22 page article on color. The August edition 1999 has a great article on "The Power of Writing," and the September 1999 edition has a super article on Julian Waters – check 'em out!

And speaking of the Waters family, Sheila says [about flourishing]: "When in doubt, leave it out."

Deadlines!!! I once had the same deadline for 3 jobs. This is what I did: One was an envelope job of 200 and 20 days until the deadline. I divided 200 by 20, and did a minimum of 10 envelopes per day (or more). The second job was a bunch of certificates, so I did the same thing, divided the number of certificates by 20 days and did at least that many certificates per day (or more). The 3rd job was a poem. I worked on it a while, went back to my first and second jobs until all were finished on time. The stress level was a bit high, but the clients were happy at pick up time.

Nib Spotlight The November nib spotlight is on the Esterbrook #A1 Professional. This nib is a bit higher priced, but worth every cent. The tine snap is super, the durability can't be beat and the ease of writing comfort will pay for itself in no time. Do yourself a favor, treat yourself to one of these "dream nibs" in one of my offset handmade wooden holders, and you will soon be wanting more. Visit my table to get a feel of these nibs.

'TIL NEXT MONTH, FOR BEAUTIFUL CALLIGRAPHY,

OCTOBER PROGRAM REVIEW

Paper Folding III with Rick Garlington

By Anita Hofmeister

At our last meeting, James Walters met Rick Garlington at the door to tell him the purpose for origami. James began with, "It's twofold..."

As always, we all came prepared for a time of fun knowing who was presenting the program, and the entertainment began!

Only Rick knows the enormous amount of time spent in preparation for this program, but his eager pupils were grateful.

He started with, "Don't follow the instructions, I've got a better way to do it!" Rick did show us a better way, and the folding began.

Rick provided all the beautiful paper and instructions for our folded boxes inside a folder imprinted with his own hand-cut stamps.

We worked our way through squash folds, gate folds and my favorite, the tricky folds. The end result were four fabulous boxes!

Throughout the program names were drawn, and Rick gave away various samples of his own handmade gorgeous boxes to the lucky winners. One particular box he gave away was a beautiful sewing box made up of smaller boxes inside other boxes of various sizes and shapes. It was made in such a way that it appeared to be a book when completely folded up. I don't think I was the only one who coveted it!

Kudos to Rick for his generosity and an outstanding program! As you practice making these marvelous boxes, remember Rick, and that he prefers his box filled with M&Ms!

Kaligrafos Exhibit Protocols

Exhibits are for the benefit of the artists and for Kaligrafos Calligraphy Guild.

All participants should respect the amount of work that is necessary to obtain venues, organize and hang an exhibit, and follow the guidelines below.

1. All entries must be have a current entry form filled out and sent to the exhibit chairman upon request for such forms in a timely manner with those portions specified to go on the artwork and the packing material attached to same. All artwork must be identified and wrapped for protection.
2. All entries must conform to the guidelines set up by the exhibit chairman including:
 - a) Acrylic instead of glass on framed items unless permission has been obtained from the exhibit chairman to use glass. Framed items without the protective covering like acrylic or glass or a canvas or banner can be damaged easily and are therefore accepted only upon the artist realizing and accepting the risk of damage, as is true with all entries.

- b) Must be ready to hang with appropriate wire on D- rings, or in the case of a banner, an appropriate and well-presented cord or band, or whatever the gallery designates. Saw toothed bands that are common on some readily available frames are not acceptable for hanging in a gallery. No wire must show above the frame.
- c) Must be wrapped with a protective covering like bubble wrap or cardboard covering and must be identified as provided for on the entry form. A light plastic bag is not acceptable.

All artwork will be juried to meet these criteria and rejected if received in a manner other than that stated above.

Late entries will not be accepted after the date of delivery to the exhibit chairperson or designate has been set. It is incumbent upon the artist to get their artwork prepared and delivered to the exhibit chairperson or designate in a timely manner.
